The winners of the Quiz events were,

Sl. No.	Name of the participants	Year & Semester	Prize
1	Nandana Anilkumar and Gattu Jhansi	III year, VI semester	Winners
2	Khushboo G and Tahiya Erum	III year, VI semester	Runners

Day 2:

Date: 14th March 2024

Event: Poster Presentation

The posters on the topic international Pi Day were displayed in Mathematics Lab for which Ms. Srividya Suresh, Cloud developer, IBM was the judge and declared the following as winner of the event,

Sl. No.	Name of the participants	Year & Semester	Prize
1	Tejashree and Shubha R	II Year, IV Sem	Winners
2	Khushboo G and Gattu Jhansi	III Year, VI Sem	Runners

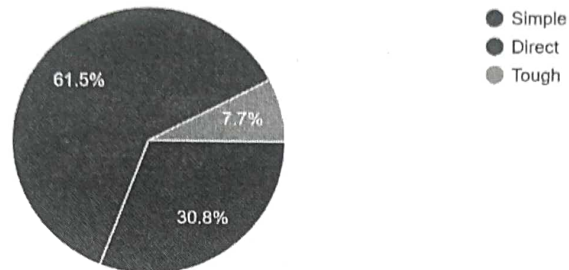

Event: Talk

The speaker of the event was Ms. Srividya Suresh, Cloud developer, IBM India system development labs, Bengaluru gave a talk on “The secrets of generative AI”. The talk was on “the secrets of generative AI” delves into the transformative capabilities of generative artificial intelligence, bridging artificial intelligence, machine learning, and deep learning. It elucidates the essence of generative AI, showcasing its diverse techniques. Within the broader landscape of AI, generative models play a pivotal role, enabling machines to autonomously create content and perform tasks traditionally requiring human intelligence. Machine learning optimization techniques refine generative artificial intelligence’s performance, while next word prediction exemplifies its prowess in natural language processing. Furthermore, reinforcement learning empowers machines to learn from human feedback, fostering collaboration between human and artificial intelligence. At the pinnacle of AI lies large language models like chatGPT, dolly etc. are used in revolutionizing natural language understanding and content generation. In essence, the secrets of generative AI unveil a future where human-machine collaboration knows no bounds, propelling us towards unprecedented innovation and advancement.
